

Roots, Wings, and Rainbows

a support group for parents of trans kids

As new laws and policies across the U.S. make it harder for trans and nonbinary people to live safely and openly, parents are facing more challenges than ever in supporting their trans and non binary children.

Having support and a community around you during these times when it feels the world is against your family can be a powerful tool for parents. This group aims to provide a safe, welcoming space to share experiences, learn, and share with others who understand what you are experiencing.

Who: Facilitated by Jori Brick, LSW at Augustyn Family Services

Where: Virtual through secure HIPAA compliant platform

When: Fridays at 12:00pm

Cost: $20 per session (sliding scale and scholarships available)

Contact jori@augustynfamilyservices.com to inquire

